We are excited to be able to host the National Conference for School Pastors, Chaplains and ministry workers in our region in 2015. It is great that LEA has supported us and encouraged us to reinstate this important national event.

We have secured an amazing retreat venue in the foothills of the Dandenong ranges, as well as secured Australia’s most prominent spiritual writer, David Tacey. David has been described as someone who challenges our thinking in matters of spirituality.

We encourage every school in Australia to plan to have at least one representative attend this conference. This is a rare professional learning and networking opportunity for School pastors, Congregational based pastors who serve our schools, School Chaplains and other Ministry and Pastoral Care staff to attend a highly relevant PD event that will focus on contemporary spirituality and our ministry to young people and families in the complex world of the 21st century and comes around only once in every three of four years.

KEYNOTE SPEAKER - Wednesday
Rowan Lewis – NEXT Coordinator, Whitley College

Keynote Topic: Nurturing Faith in Young People through Identity Development

This session will examine the relationship between faith development and identity formation. We will discover the way faith can be affirmed and strengthened when a young person's identity formation process deliberately includes religious or spiritual exploration - whether they are from religious or non-religious backgrounds. The educational practices that help and hinder this formation process will be discussed.

Elective Topic: Faith at the Crossroads

Why do some young people, when faced with a challenge to their faith, grow stronger while others fade away? This workshop explores the mystery of faith development, loss and change in young people, particularly at the moment when faith is at the crossroad, and the ways we can constructively participate in that process.
