Looking to engage your students as they explore different Biblical texts?

This practical workshop will focus on guiding student inquiry using Biblical texts. A variety of effective and useful techniques, routines and strategies will be demonstrated and modelled. These can be applied and adapted to stimulate the curiosity of students and enhance their understanding.

This workshop will suit teachers of all levels of experience and will assist teams to plan engaging and meaningful units of study.

Participants are encouraged to bring a Bible with them, as well as at least one relevant unit/topic from their course.

The day will be structured around the following sessions:

- Authentic Inquiry Using the Bible
- Sparking Curiosity around Biblical Texts
- Encountering Texts First (primary resource)

DATE: Friday 10th March
9am - 3pm
3pm - 4pm CSLs only

VENUE: LSA, meeting room 1
137 Archer Street, North Adelaide

WORKSHOP FACILITATOR

Shaun Healy

MRE(ACU), GradDipEd(See) (ACU), BArts(Media)(RMIT)

With over ten years experience of working in Catholic secondary schools in Melbourne and Tasmania, Shaun understands the demands of teaching, curriculum design, and values education within a variety of different contexts and faith traditions. He is enthusiastic about creating learning experiences where students are given the opportunity to get 'off the bench' and practice the skills needed to understand religion and identity in a contemporary context.
