Invitational Day

“Unlock your opportunities”

Tuesday April 8, 2014

9.30am-1.15pm

Overview

The Australian Lutheran College’s Invitational Day provides an opportunity for current Lutheran College Year 11 and/or Year 12 students to experience the community of our college and find out about the range of post-school vocational pathway options that ALC provides.

ALC provides vocational pathways in the areas of:

- ‘Gap Year’ study – Certificate IV in Christian Ministry and Theology
- Lutheran Education training
- Pastoral Ministry training
- Higher Education courses

The Invitational Day will be an opportunity for Lutheran Colleges to send students with a potential interest in any of the above areas to join us for a day. Each Lutheran College is invited to nominate up to four Year 11 and/or 12 students to attend the Invitational Day.
Program

The Invitational Day will include opportunities to:

- hear testimonies from our current ALC students
- meet current lecturers/trainers and ask questions associated with their vocational interest areas
- attend an information session about vocational pathways at ALC
- participate in an interactive ‘snapshot’ session on leadership from the Certificate IV in Christian Ministry & Theology
- learn advanced study skills in preparation for university
- tour the ALC campus

Cost:

The Invitational Day is free of charge, with morning tea and lunch provided from the on-campus Refectory.

Attire:

Students are to attend in their school uniform and wear a name tag provided on the day.

Supervision of students:

Teachers/parents are not required to accompany students to this event, though they are most welcome. An ALC staff member will be on hand to chaperone students throughout the Invitational Day.

Registration:

Lutheran Colleges can register interested students (up to 4 students per college) by completing the form provided and return to Tania Nelson by 1 April, 2014. Additional information about the day, including confirmation of registrations and a full program for the day will be sent to the nominated school contact.

Further Information

For more information, please contact Tania Nelson from the School of Theological Studies on 8267 7400 or tania.nelson@alc.edu.au

We look forward to welcoming your students on campus.
